

Aims and scope

The HNUE Journal of Science is a scholarly publication of Hanoi National University of Education (Vietnam), established in 1955 to disseminate research across various scientific disciplines. The journal regularly publishes research articles in both Vietnamese and English in three series: Journal of Natural Science, Journal of Social Science, and Journal of Educational Science. The journals operate under an open-access model and employs a double-blind peer-review process.

Submission and ethics

Authors may submit their manuscripts through the Journal's online submission system at <https://hnuejs.edu.vn/>. Authors are required to adhere to the principles of research ethics and scientific integrity and bear full responsibility for the content of their submissions. Manuscripts submitted to the Journal must present original research findings and must not have been previously published in full in any domestic or international books, newspapers, journals, or conference proceedings (with ISSN/ISBN index).

All co-authors must confirm their agreement with the manuscript, their contribution to the research and writing, and declare no conflicts of interest or fully disclose any (if applicable).

Author guidelines

Manuscripts submitted to the Journal must be prepared in accordance with the Journal's template. For manuscripts in English, authors are encouraged to use professional language editing services to ensure accuracy in spelling, grammar, style, and clarity of expression prior to submission.

Papers should be typed in Times New Roman font, size 11, line spacing of single, paragraph spacing of 2 pt, not exceeding 10 pages. Authors are encouraged to prepare manuscripts in Latex for Natural Sciences papers, in Microsoft Word for Educational and Social Sciences papers, and printed on 19 cm × 27 cm size paper. Papers should be used ACD/Chem. Sketch or Science Helper for Word for chemical formulas. Figures must be clear, and not over 17 x 14 cm. Figure's title should be underneath. Table's title should be above.

The manuscript should include abstract, keywords, introduction, research methodology, results, discussion, conclusion (main research results, significance of research, further research directions), notes for contributors, conflicts of interest, acknowledgements, and references.

Papers use scientific terms and legal units of measurement issued by the Government or used popularly in the professional area.

References

For articles published in the Natural Sciences series, the Journal follows the IEEE citation style for both in-text citations and the reference list at the end of the manuscript. The reference list should be numbered and arranged according to the order of first appearance within the manuscript.

For articles published in the Educational Sciences and Social Sciences series, the Journal adheres to the APA citation style (7th edition) for in-text citations. The reference list must be placed at the end of the manuscript, arranged alphabetically (A–Z) by the surname of the first author, and formatted consistently according to APA 7 guidelines.
